Summary of Institution Mission and Student Achievement

Catholic Distance University's mission is to communicate the mind and heart of the Church in a digital world. Using distance education, the university educates teachers and learners worldwide in Catholic theology, the liberal arts, and faith development for the growth of faith, ecclesial service, and leadership for the New Evangelization. CDU measures Student Achievement in the context of both mission and educational programs. In regard to mission, preparation to teach the faith in the context of a parish, school or diocese is an important measure of CDU's success in equipping students for ecclesial service and leadership for the New Evangelization. According to alumni program exit survey data, more than 90% surveyed from 2014-2018 serve the Church through ministry. In 2018, 100% of alumni surveyed feel confident in their ability to teach the faith following their education at CDU. To measure Student Achievement within educational programs, targeted assignments are used to assess mastery of course and program goals. Also tracked and reviewed are persistence through courses, satisfactory course completions, program retention and graduation rates, and various surveys soliciting feedback, including end of course and program surveys, employee surveys, and student services surveys.

Aggregated Institutional Data on Student Achievement

Graduation rates, satisfactory course completion rates, alumni program exit surveys, and the use of targeted assignments to measure mastery of program goals provide important metrics of Student Achievement. The data provided below are from 2018.

Graduation Rates are based on cohorts of students who enrolled in the programs below and completed them within 150% of the program duration time. CDU's graduation rates were 75% for the AA program, 63% for the BA program, and 75% for the MA programs.

Alumni program-exit survey respondents expressed 100% satisfaction with programs, and 100% were confident in their ability to teach the Faith.

The annual review of satisfactory course completion indicates that in 2018, 89.14% of undergraduate students satisfactorily completed their courses, and 92.15% of graduate students satisfactorily completed their courses. The GPA requirement for the AA and BA degree programs is 2.0; the GPA requirement for the MA programs is 3.0.
